THE 1967 BOHEMIAN HONORS

The educational process is characterized by a tone involving mental alertness, physical stamina, and dedicated desire. At Wofford, inter-collegiate athletics provide a laboratory experience in which students may demonstrate all three under the supervision and guidance of men trained and qualified to polish rough edges and to accentuate this tone.

Conscientious involvement and a sincere interest in the college are portrayed in the lives of the members of the 1966-67 Wofford coaching staff, who have made athletics a valuable phase of the educational process at this institution. To these five men—Conley Trigg Snidow, Eugene Foster Alexander, James Andrew Brakefield, Robert Horsefall Muirhead, and Duane Austin Stober—we express our gratitude and sincere appreciation through this dedication.

In an age of increasing complexity we are often beset by hypocritical admonishments, mass ignorance, and prejdice. Today Wofford; tomorrow the world. And so it is, from generation to generation we pass, only to find that tomorrow has already passed in one whimsical sweep. The dawn of day slips into a limbo which culminates in the nexus of life. First birth; then an effervescent night possessing the hope of tomorrow. And, so it is as we begin, "Virtus, repulsae nescia sordidae. . ."

The calm ends abruptly as freshmen begin the tedious and strenuous order of becoming oriented to new faces, new rules, and specifically, a new life. Upperclassmen return with golden suntans, renewed vigor, and unused minds. Suddenly the storm begins as Rush preoccupies the Greeks, and academics claim the others. As the Fall season sneeks in slowly, the eastern part of the campus comes alive to the sounds of whistles and human energy coming into contact. The social world quickens its tempo as weekend trips become frequent and as the I.F.C. and Scabbard and Blade sponsor dances. Once again the routine begins, and once again not all survive; but for those who did, new challenges lie ahead.

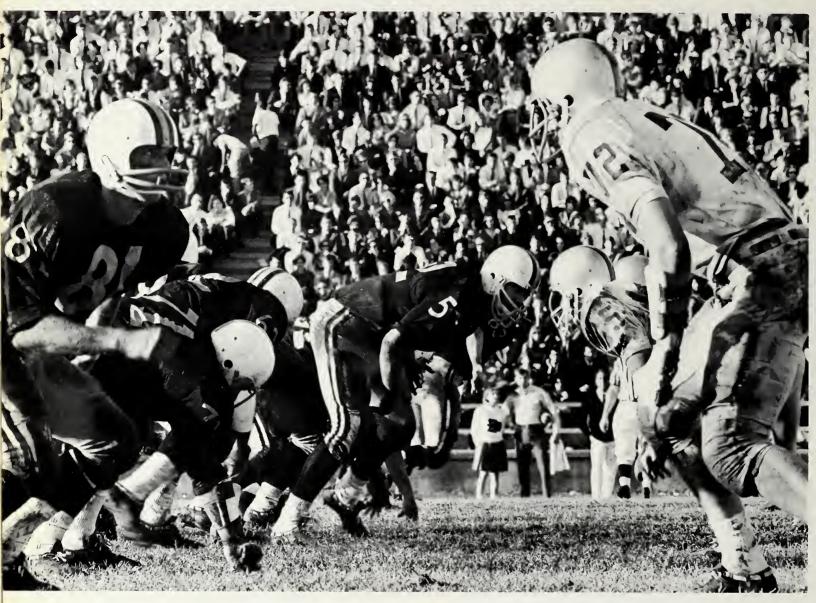

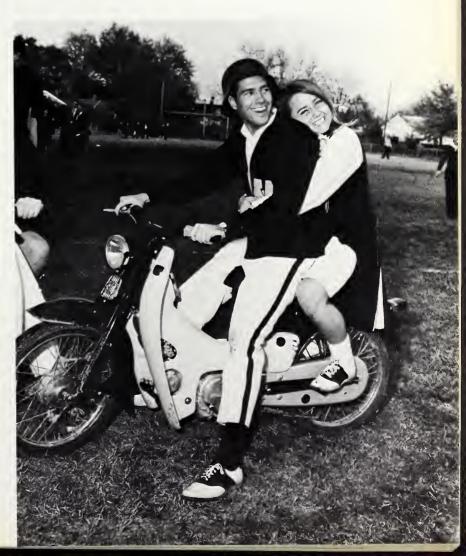

Before we know it mid-semester approaches, but not before the grads return to witness a phenomenal Homecoming. Dismal at first with the rain dampening the fraternity displays as well as the spirit, the day abruptly brightens as the clouds rescind to allow the golden rays to shine and add warmth to the imminent victory. Striving to win the first Homecoming game since a six-year drought, the seniors of the Terrier Eleven earn their reward, as the taste of victory over Davidson is sweet. Once again we are blessed with capable judges as lovely Barbara Hamby reigns as our Homecoming Queen. With memories of the Friday night dance featuring the "Impressions", and the "Tempests" still fresh in our minds, the jovial atmosphere continues with "Little Anthony and the Imperials" in concert sponsored by the S.R.B. All too quickly the festivities come to a close, but Homecoming 1966-67 will remain a cherished memory long after we depart.

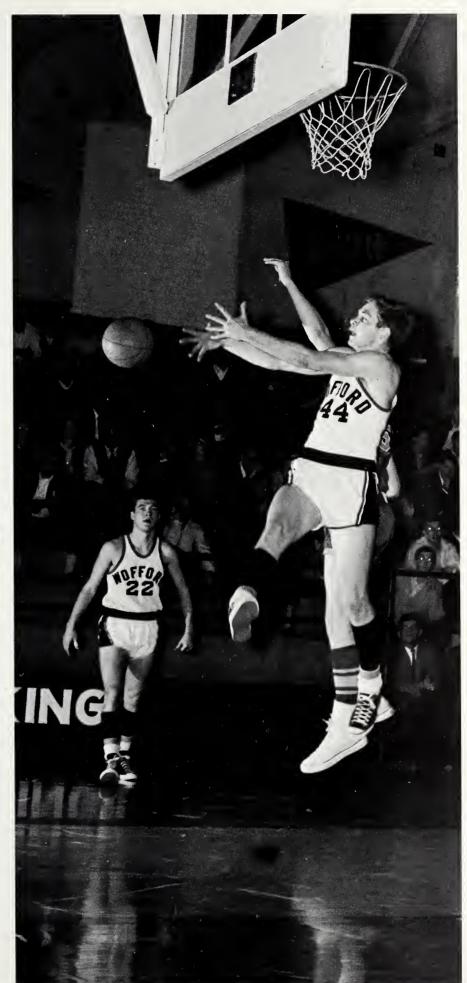

We return from our first vacation stuffed with turkey and with the hope that grades will rise and that Christmas will arrive shortly. The pigskin is put away until Spring, while excitement runs high over the prospects of an equally successful basketball team. Between the late hours and tests the Winter Ball, with Chuck Jackson, arrives to ease the tensions and to welcome the arrival of the Christmas season. Just before the holidays, to the delight of the college community, Dr. C. C. Norton returns to give his annual rendition of Dicken's A Christmas Carol.

Keeping in mind the true meaning of the Christmas season, the Student Government Association, the Student Christian Council, and the Inter-Fraternity Council display the Christmas spirit by staging a party complete with goodies, gifts, and song for the underprivileged children of the Spartanburg area. As we witness the excitement in the children's faces while unwrapping their gifts, we begin to acquire the feeling that Christmas is in the air. Slowly the last day approaches; finally it arrives; and we depart for home, St. Nick, and the new year.

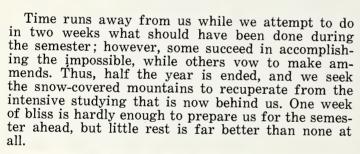

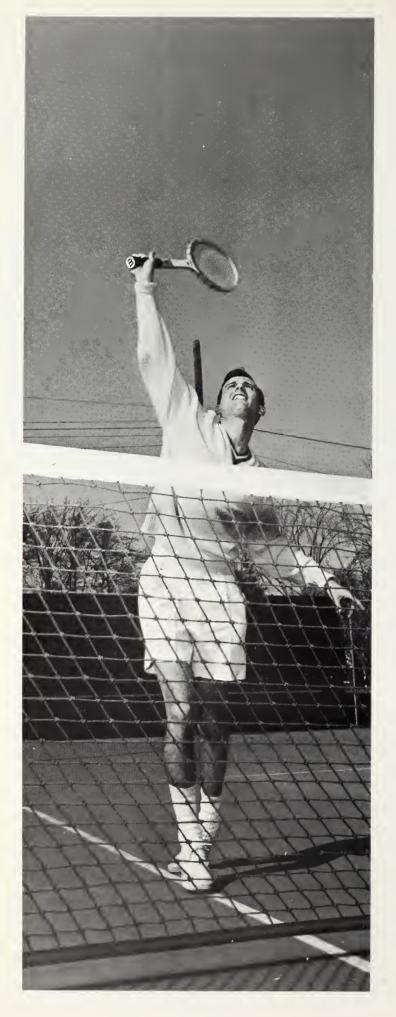

Second semester begins with a relatively calm registration and with enthusiastic students. For some it is a new start, while for seniors it is the beginning of the last chapter of their college experience. Amid the hectic beginning, the social calendar whirls as Greek Week arrives. Spring is not far off as is evidenced by the weather and the number of cars over on the city's eastern border.

Spring evolves in its full effulgence as baseball, tennis, golf, and track move into the sports scene, while the "Sons of Ben" migrate to the sandy beaches, the mountains and other fun-loving attractions for the holidays. Time is running out, for seniors have only to take the GRE and final exams before their sweat, frustration, anxiety, and hours of toil come to an end. Play Day at Converse and the I.F.C. Sing occupy the closing moments of Wofford 1967. With graduation come shouts of joy and feelings of uneasiness about what lies ahead, but most important comes the realization that this is the beginning. The final page of a man's prologue is written; the first chapter lies ahead.

RUSH

Another year and another rush typified by the traditional fraternity robots who dispense smiles and small talk, while within they are absorbed with the everpresent questions—"Will he fit?", "What are our chances?", "Leaning our way?", etc. Neglect of studies, classes, sleep, and check balances are only one of the two results of the intensified rushing process—the other being the establishment of new and lasting friendships — the bond of brotherhood.

HOMECOMING

The Friday night dance with the Impressions set the stage for a weekend that will be long remembered. The Kappa Sigs took the prize for the display before the rain took them all. Saturday was a new day. The rain ceased, the clouds departed, and the sun was born again to give the Dogs light in a beautiful afternoon at Snyder Field. An exciting first half evolved. The halftime presented spotless beauty to replace the mudsmeared uniforms. Barbara Hamby—the new Queen—surrounded by seven other beautiful females. They all smiled on as Wofford whipped the Wildcats 40-28. The Social and Recreational Board proved itself again when Little Anthony and the Imperials concluded the flawless festivities.

WINTER BALL

The Social and Recreational Board sponsored The Winter Ball while Chuck Jackson provided the entertainment. The music was loud; the beat was hard; the room was filled with smoke; all the ingredients for a successful dance. A perfect way to celebrate the coming of winter and Christmas.

"Fraternity Man and His Responsibility To His Community"

GREEK WEEK

More than just a social whirl, Greek Week 1967 emphasized the responsibility that the fraternity man has to his community. Providing the keynote address to the fraternity members was Mr. Durward Owen, the Executive Secretary of Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity. Once again the faculty joined with the Greeks to discuss both the strengths and weaknesses of the fraternity system at Wofford.

Turning to the social aspect, individual fraternity parties lightened the spirits on Friday night causing vacancies in the classroom the following morning. By Saturday noon the heads had cleared and the stage was set for Wofford's first Greek Games. Emerging victorious were the Sigma Nu's who sought their revenge for losing the Homecoming display contest. The sounds of the Shirrells, Hank Ballard and the Midnighters, the Tempests, and Billy Stewart; along with Miss Venus, Margie Wallace, provided gaiety and splendor through the "Midnight Hour" until nothing was left but silence and memories.

Phi Beta Kappa was founded December 5, 1776, at William and Mary College, in Williamsburg, Virginia. It was the first society to have a Greek letter name. From that humble beginning in one of the cradles of the American nation and its transplanting to other parts of the country, the society has spread throughout the entire nation and has become one of the most respected organizations of its kind in the world.

The Wofford Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, Beta Chapter of South Carolina, was chartered in 1941. Election to Phi Beta Kappa is one of the highest honors that can be bestowed upon a person by Wofford College. Election to the society is a recognition of intellectual capacities well employed, especially in acquiring an education in the liberal arts and sciences.

ORGANIZATIONS

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

Student Government has always been the focal point of student activity on the Wofford campus. In this organization the principle of self-government has been its constant aim for its members—the students. Tradition has always been a respected and revered quality at Wofford, however, it does not restrain the establishment of new and better concepts that will in time become more solid and respected than those that they replace.

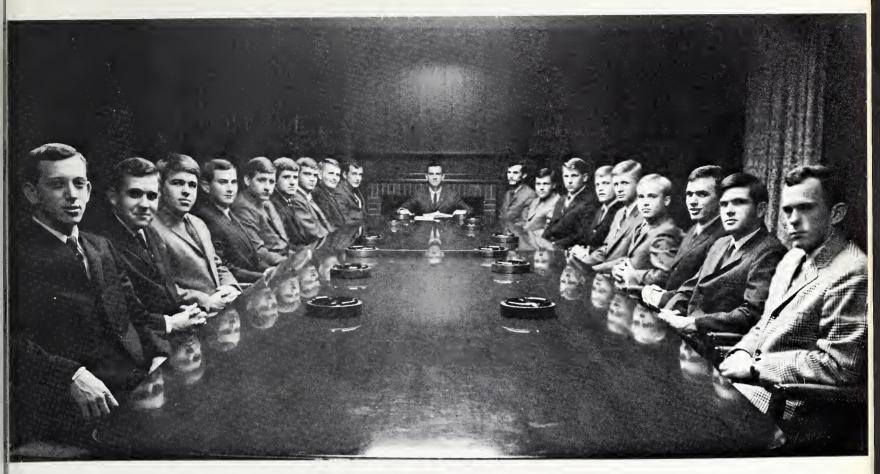

The functions of the Student Government Association are many, but the one that stands out to be the most important is its role as a liaison between students, faculty, and administration. This task can only be carried out by the elected members of the student body who voice the opinions of the whole in administrative affairs while, collectively, they mesh the student, scholar, and school into an acceptable functioning body.

Jim Rountree, President of the Student Government Association

John T. Miller, Vice-President of the Student Government Association

THE SENATE

The Senate maintains throughout the year a degree of dignity and sophistication in its efforts to serve as a link of communication between the students, administration and faculty. The Senate is composed of twenty elected representatives — four senators from each class and four senators-at-large. The Student Government Constitution delegates to the Vice-President of the SGA the responsibility of presiding over the Senate.

This year's Senate was composed of students interested and involved in the affairs of the school and students willing to represent the students who elected them. During the year the Senate investigated the cafeteria situation, reviewed the plans for the proposed new student center, requested an additional day for Christmas vacation, initiated a campaign to correct the Evins Street Bluff, recommended that the faculty allow student representation on the newly formed orientation committee, and passed the Freshman Car Privilege Bill affecting the freshman who attained a 2.5 g.p.r. first semester.

The Senate operated this past year on the theory of self-government. A truly effective Senate can indeed create greater co-operation and provide an ideal means for the exchange of ideas.

Hugh T. Arthur, Chairman

JUDICIAL BOARD

The right of appeal is the basis of the framework of the Judicial Board at Wofford. This body sets up the guidelines for the enforcement of the student's own codes of academic and social discipline. Integrity is the byword of this organization as it is in any facet of college life, and it is the obligation of the Judicial Board to maintain this basic foundation of honor. Consisting of three students elected from the student body with the President and Vice President of the Student Government Association serving as ex officio members, the remainder of the Board is made up of faculty members and the Dean of Students. The Judicial Board maneuvers the student toward the rational side of the college experience.

RESIDENCE HALL BOARD OF STANDARDS

The members of the Board are composed of one member from each dorm and are appointed by the S.G.A. The Board serves as an intermediary between the students minor judicial problems and the judicial Council. The Attorney General of the S.G.A. serves as chairman of the Board.

STATE STUDENT LEGISLATURE

The State Student Legislature is an organization in which members from each of South Carolina's colleges meet in Columbia to increase their knowledge in the field of political science. They observe the way the official legislature is handled and participate in an act of making and passing bills. The combined purpose of SUSGA is to present the ideas of politics and to inform the student leader of the mechanics of the governmental process.

PUBLICATIONS BOARD

Composed of faculty and student representatives, the Publications Board has as its primary purpose the supervision and maintenance of the three student publications—the Old Gold and Black, The Journal, and the Bohemian. The responsibility of electing the editors and business managers of these publications is the board's initial function, but more important is its responsibility to maintain the standards and purposes which these publications possess.

Howard M. Pegram, Chairman

William E. Rivers, Business Manager.

John T. Miller, Editor

Peter Moore, Jim Rountree, Neal Dickert, Russ Hughes, Staff Writers.

The Old Gold and Black is the newspaper of the College and is edited solely by the students. In its capacity as a weekly newspaper, the OG&B attempts to do more than simply report the news. It attempts to do more than simply serve as the college bulletin board. It attempts to do more than simply provide posterity with a history of Wofford. The Old Gold and Black staff of 1966-67 realized the need for a campus newspaper which would interpret the news and reflect the opinions of the entire Wofford campus. This year the Old Gold and Black extended its importance as a communications medium by utilizing its "rear view mirror" to project the future needs of the Wofford College Community.

BOHEMIAN

Once again the Bohemian staff has attempted to capture the students in their various areas of involvement. Depicting the total educational process involves an arduous task of which this small staff has attempted to accomplish. To our devoted photographer, Bob Willis, our advisor, Professor Harold Green, our publisher, Lloyd Mahaffey, and a multitude of others, the credit is due for their combined efforts in making this publication possible.

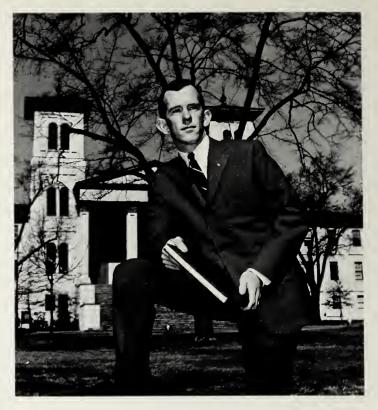

Within these pages may be found numerous aspects of Wofford 1967, and it is the hope of those who spent long hours preparing this book that the 1967 Bohemian will be of some value to each individual.

THE JOURNAL

The creative function of the student body is represented in the Journal. Published four times a year, this magazine theoretically portrays the abstract and concrete moods of the student. This publication's controversial element is in its function—to express. The Journal's job, though not its duty, is to shy away from the bland and to challenge the talent and emotion of the student body. Originality, the only true means of literary expression, is the fundamental aim of the Journal.

Bands at Wofford include the Converse-Wofford Concert Band (under joint sponsorship), a performing group heard throughout the year in concerts on both campuses and in the community; the College R.O.T.C. Band which, in addition to its military duties, performs at all home and some out-of-town football games and at other school and community functions; the Freshmen Pep Band, which performs for pep rallies during Freshmen Orientation, and a Dance Band made up of Wofford members of the Concert Band and College R.O.T.C. Band. However, music at Wofford is not all centered around the school sponsored organizations. Many student "groups" and individuals use the practice facilities available in the Music Building. Listening equipment is housed in the Library and an increasing number of recordings are being made available.

The members of Delta Chapter are, above all else, Southern gentlemen. We have inall else, Southern gentlemen. We have inherited from our noble spiritual founder, Gen. Robert E. Lee, an atmosphere of chivalrous idealism. We are proud of him; we are proud of ourselves. Since the founding in 1865, our philosophy is that decency of character, and an innocent quest for knowledge are the basic goals in life.

"Man is a social animal, formed to please and enjoy in society." The Order recognizes this. Perhaps our triumphs in the social world are unequaled by any other fraternal organization. The climax of our social accomplishments are reached at our annual Old South Ball, held this year in Myrtle Beach. The new members of our chapter, pledged earlier this fall, looked forward with anxiety to this glorious occasion.

Miss Barbara Hamby, pinmate of Brother Lucas Padgett, represented us as K.A. Rose 1966. Earlier in the school year Miss Hamby represented us and was selected as Homecoming Queen 1966.

This year we have made worthy contributions to the campus life. We are greatly represented in all phases of college athletics. We are represented in Who's Who, Blue Key, Circle K, and others. Brother Rountree served as President of the Student Body, while Brothers Good and Linton served as Presidents of the Senior and Freshmen Classes, respectively. Senators from our chapter included Brothers Gettys, Rhodes, Boland, and Gunn. 1966-67 saw the pinning of Brothers Brunson, Cogswell, Reaves, Gettys, Good, Johnston, Knight, Nicholson, Stokes, and Trone.

Brothers of the finest quality who have gone before us have laid a strong and worthy foundation on which many years of successful brotherhood may rest. We look forward to next year—it will be another group of Southern Gentlemen.

After another "fun" PKP Summer School and a great party, we return to rush, and a final year for some of us.

For the third time in four years, we have the largest and best pledge class.

Five enter the much coveted brother-hood; Bick, Scout ("two in a row"), Spearm, Ed, and finally, also legally, Clappy!

"Sterling" Steve guides us through a successful first semester; under our sport's head, Larry (yea U.N.C.!) we take the I.M. Football championship for the third year in a row.

Our personal lives change: Lurch and Moose get pinned, while Dickie, John W., and Pushy get engaged.

Pushy takes a shower, Weasal would need an Aqua-lung, and Clarry would have Pneumonia.

The Weasal graduates! Did you say GRADUATE?

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON

This year the Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity has seen a determined effort pay off in a highly rewarding way. Beginning with a good pledge class, we have remained at the top in both academics and athletics. Also, our parties were great. However, the real earmark of a successful fraternity is one that acts as a fraternity but at the same time retains individuality among its members. Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 1967, has fulfilled this requirement—and fulfilled it well.

A talent-packed Terrier football team again claimed the best record in the state with a 6-3-1 season. Stars like Little All-American Don Williams, at left, All-State halfback Ted Phelps, quarterback Warren Whittaker, the all-time Wofford total offense leader and Captain Lanier Phillips keyed the aggressive Wofford units. An explosive offense, coupled with a hard-charging defense, was the crowd-pleasing trademark of the 1966 football Terriers, a team which with a few breaks and less injuries would have been one of the all-time Wofford greats.

Kneeling: Dean, Alexander. Standing: Kolb, Swearingen, Duncan, Hendrix, Talley, Pegram, Hysong, Meyer, Payne, Kendall, Gunn, Lentz, Littlefield.

Willie Pegram, Bobby Kendall and Johnny Hendrix fight for a rebound against Furman.

The 1966-67 basketball team spurted to a season record of 21 wins and 9 loses. The Terriers were paced in the early going by Bobby Kendall. Whit Payne, Johnny Hendrix, and Jimmy Littlefield took up the scoring slack when second semester found Kendall ineligible. Willie Pegram took care of the backboard situation with a season total of 327 rebounds.

1967-68 should bring only success to the Terriers who will lose only Frank Talley via graduation.

Wofford's big men, Pegram and Talley get in on some fast action under the board.

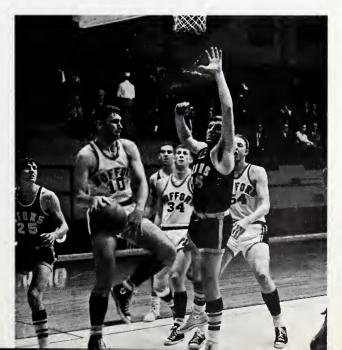

Johnny Hendrix cuts off Pegram's Screen toward the top of the key.

Whit Payne cuts down the lane for a basket against the Lions.

Under the basket, Littlefield looks for an open man.

Payne drops a rebound in for an easy two points.

Talley picks up a tip in against Erskine.

A somewhat determined Johnny Hendrix drives for a lay-up.

Kendell sweeps a rebound off the boards in the Furman game.

Hendrix gets in another scramble for the ball under the boards.

BASEBALL

Coach Jim Brakefield's 1966 baseball team racked up 13 victories against only 6 loses. Outstanding hitting by shortstop Warren Whittaker, freshman outfielder Jimmy Littlefield, and the consistant Rich Miller paved the way to the Terriers' successful season.

Joe Borum and Ted Phelps were the mainstays of the pitching staff, which was left bare when Butch Adams, the 1965 ace, suffered a preseason injury.

The trademark of the 1966 baseball team was power hitting, alert base running, and tight pitching.

Key to the Terriers' success was the team's relaxed attitude.

Rusty Hudson, Wofford's wiry catcher, rifles a double to left field.

First baseman Rich Miller scoops up another foul ball.

First Row: Rusty Hudson, David Nivens, Craig Burnette, Ron Wilson, Warren Wittaker, Johnny Howard. Second Row: Jimmy Littlefield, Rick Carlisle, Lee Knight, Fuzzy Thurston, Mac Lemmons strains for a good jump.

Mac Lemmons takes an early lead during a duel meet.

Coach Bob Muirhead's 1966 track team was lead by the versatile and talented Mac Lemmons. Lemmons was the all time leading track scorer, who in one meet took no less than six first places. It was a season which also saw John Hanna set school records in the shot-put and discus. Freshman Bill Harkey gave strength to the long distance races. Overall the team had a good year with strong individual performance.

Another one of the events in which Lemmons starred was the javelin throw.

McCrady and Jacobs race each other in a practice section.

Today's young people are turned on and tuned in to what's happening. And things are happening because plentiful, low-priced electricity is making them happen. You flip the switches and turn the dials, and electricity does the rest. It makes life easier, happier, more comfortable and entertaining. And when you have a home of your own, electricity will work even harder to serve you. It's what's happening.

THE PARTY'S OVER

The lights are dim now as a new dawn approaches. One finds solace within the confines of the remaining group, for time has taken its toll; tomorrow brings the reward for those who have conformed. The night has been long for those who have stayed. Soon the night will be a cherished memory which lingers long after daybreak. Mixed emotions await the coming dawn, for weariness demands a change, while friendships resist the inevitable separation.

Swiftly we were thrown into a group of strange faces; left to adapt to an adult world which would either accept or reject our values, aspirations, and behavior. The beginning was difficult as we stumbled and struggled to find our place and to form our niche. For some, fear resulted in early success, while overconfidence resulted in imminent failure to the irresponsible and undisciplined child. The night was still young for those who had earned the right to stay. No longer were we alone. Lasting friendships had been formed. With the crowd diminished somewhat, we continued to play the game by the rules, for all too well we knew the consequences of being a deviant. Rapidly the night had slipped away; already it was time for the first intermission. Life had been good so far, as we found ourselves preparing to return. We had survived the first crucial test!

Once again we felt refreshed as the air had cleared and our concept of the situation had become more optimistic. By the mere fact that we had returned, we began with a new feeling of confidence; we had acquired status. Now we were part of the group. New privileges as well as new responsibilities became ours to use at our discretion. Before long, the routine had become old and we searched for new groups, new activities, anything to change the monotony. Little did we know then that time would escape us much too swiftly. The night grew on as tensions rose and tempers flared; we had begun to tire. Becoming apathetic and unconcerned, the group realized the mental, physical, and emotional effects of life under such strenuous circumstances. Fearing exclusion from the group, we continued to conform until once again an intermission would calm the nerves.

The half-way point had been reached for those of us who returned for more of the night life. Maturation had occured for some during the first half, and for the others there was still time left. Assembled as a group, we were reminded of the purpose of this experience; some took heed while the others developed their own. Life was both tense and relaxed as we returned to our previous roles which were to change due to process. Dawn was in the making, but one last moment remained.

The final moment had arrived for the tired and weary; the most meaningful moment of the night. Success was ours for venturing the storm and surviving. With mixed emotions we awaited the final toll of the bell. All of our hopes, fears, aspirations, and desires had led us to make this moment our only goal. The sun began its debut as ecstasy filled our being. Weary minds and bodies began to recollect the past, as the night crept out.

Dawn arrived in a burst of golden rays; the sign that the night had ended. The group began to gather their belongings and to depart into the unknown, realizing to their dismay, that the party had finally come to a close for us, the class of 1967!
